

Market Notice

Number: 157
 Date: 1 March 2011

JSE TradElect and InfoWiz Service Hours Changes GMT to BST

JSE TradElect and InfoWiz users are advised that the United Kingdom will switch to Daylight Savings at 02h00 SAST on Sunday 27 March 2011 and will be reverting to British Summer Time (BST). The time difference between South Africa and the UK will therefore be 1 hour instead of the current 2 hours.

The impact of the time change on the JSE TradElect and InfoWiz services will be minimal as these time differences were taken into consideration when designing the solution. Users are advised to determine the impact to their environments and prepare their systems and environments to accommodate the change.

The aim of this reminder is to summarize the business impact to JSE services namely, JSE TradElect and InfoWiz.

Please note that all times referred to in this gazette are in South African Standard Time (SAST). Service times impacted by the change are highlighted in bold.

Connection Times

Both the JSE Secure Interactive Interface (SII) and Interactive Re-Request Interface (IRI) connection start and end times are affected by the time change.
