- A6 Unaudited profits must be verified by the trading member's external auditors or by the JSE.
- B The total B is the sum of B1 through to B6

- B2 A trading member may exclude from its fixed assets, solely for the purpose of meeting its initial capital or thirteen weeks fixed operating cost requirement, such amount as can be evidenced to the Director: Market Regulation that the fixed assets are capable of realising within a period of thirteen weeks, after repayment of any related secured loans.
- C The total C is the sum of C1 through to C4
- C1 The guarantees must be approved by the JSE and must be irrevocable for at least a further period of three months and capable of being drawn upon on presentation.
- C2 & C3 Shareholders' loans and other long term loans may be included provided that they are legally subordinated in the manner prescribed by the Director: Market Regulation for an initial period of at least two years and may only be repaid with the prior written approval of the Director: Market Regulation.
- E Own funds are calculated as $E = A - B + C - D$

AA 2 CALCULATION OF THIRTEEN WEEKS OPERATING COSTS

The JSE hereby determines, as contemplated in rule 3.40.1.2, that the operating costs of a trading member must be calculated as follows and that those trading members not exempted in terms of rule 3.90.5 must include a declaration of thirteen weeks of their operating costs in the return referred to in rule 3.90.4 in accordance with this directive.

The annual operating costs of a trading member must be the total revenue of the trading member plus any loss before taxation as per the trading member's last audited financial statements less the aggregate of the following items –

- Profit before taxation
- Bonuses paid out of relevant year's profits and not guaranteed
- Profit shares and other appropriations of profit except for a fair (market related) or guaranteed remuneration which is payable even if the trading member makes a loss for the year
- Commissions paid other than to employees or appointed representatives of the trading member
- Fees, brokerage and other charges paid to clearing houses, clearing firms, exchanges and intermediate brokers for the purpose of executing, registering or clearing transactions excluding charges not related to the continuation of trading
- Interest payable to counterparties which is trade related (such as that applicable to repurchase agreements and carries)
- Interest payable on borrowings to finance the long term investment business of the trading member
- Abnormal or extraordinary items with the prior approval of the JSE
- Losses arising on the conversion of foreign currency balances.

If a trading member does not have audited financial statements yet it may -

- where it has only just commenced trading or has not been a trading member long enough to have submitted audited financial statements, calculate its relevant expenditure on budgeted or other accounts which have been submitted with its application; or
- where its accounts do not represent a 12 month period, calculate its relevant expenditure on a proportionate basis approved by the JSE.

The JSE may adjust the relevant annual expenditure where-

- there has been a significant change in the circumstances or activities of the trading member; or
- the trading member has a material proportion of its expenditure incurred on its behalf by a third party and such expenditure is not fully recharged to the trading member.

AA 3 POSITION RISK REQUIREMENT

The JSE hereby determines that a trading member's position risk requirement, as contemplated in rule 3.40.1.3, must be calculated in accordance with either AA 3.1, 3.2 or AA 3.3 below and that those trading members not exempted in terms of rule 3.90.5 must include a declaration of position risks in the return referred to in rule 3.90.4, in accordance with this resolution.

3.1 Calculation of position risk requirement in terms of simplest method

Total position risk requirement is the aggregate of all the individual risk capital required figures calculated as set out in the table below.

Item	Risk Capital Required
A Bonds (see note 1)
Government or government guaranteed
Less than 1 year to maturity	2% of MV (see note 2)
Less than 3 years to maturity	5% of MV
More than 3 years to maturity	10% of MV
Issued or accepted by a bank
Less than 90 days to maturity	2% of MV
Others which are marketable securities (excluding floating rate notes)
Less than 1 year to maturity	10% of MV
Less than 3 years to maturity	20% of MV
More than 3 years to maturity	30% of MV
Floating Rate Notes
Less than 20 years to maturity	5% of MV
20 years and more to maturity	10% of MV
B Securities (see note 1)
Listed on an exchange	40% of MV

Other
Traded on an external exchange designated by the JSE	35% of MV
Other	100% of MV

D Futures, options, swaps, FRAs and contracts for difference
Exchange traded futures, options, swaps or FRAs	2 x initial margin requirement
Unlisted forward contracts or written options	The appropriate percentage shown in A,B and C above should be applied to the market value of the underlying position
Unlisted purchased options	As for off exchange written options but limited to the current value of the option
Contracts for difference	20% of the market value of the contract

E	JSE authorised investments	Risk Capital Required
	Units in a registered unit trust scheme	25 % of realisable value (see note 4)
	Krugerrands	10% of realisable value
	An interest in an unregistered futures or options fund	50% of realisable value
	Any other investments	100% of amount of asset

Notes:

- 1 The long or short position in a particular security is the net of any long or short positions held in that security (i.e. a long position in XYZ shares can be offset on a share for share basis against a short position in XYZ shares).
- 2 Market value (MV) means the market value of the sum of the long and the short positions in the particular category. The positions are thus added to each other.
- 3 Definition of stock position
- (a) A stock position in physical commodities includes the following:
- (i) Commodities where the full contract price has been paid.
 - (ii) Work in progress and finished goods which result from the processing of commodities.
 - (iii) Raw materials which will be combined with commodities to produce a finished processed commodity.
- (b) A stock position is regarded as being associated with a trading member's investment business if the contract was made for investment rather than commercial purposes. Indications of this are -
- (i) it is traded on a recognised or designated exchange; or
 - (ii) the performance of it is ensured by such an exchange or by a licensed clearing house; or
 - (iii) there are arrangements for the payment or provision of margin.
- (c) Some indications that a contract is made for commercial purposes are -
- (i) the terms specify delivery within 7 days
 - (ii) either or each of the parties is a producer of the commodity or uses it in its business or the purchaser takes or intends to take delivery of the commodity
- 4 Realisable value means a fair estimate of the value at which the position could be closed without unduly affecting the market in the security.

3.2 Calculation of position risk requirement in terms of building block method*Bonds*

A trading member must classify its net positions according to the currency in which they are denominated and must calculate the capital requirement for general and specific risk in each individual currency separately (see notes 1 to 4 below).

Specific risk

A trading member must assign its net positions, as calculated in accordance with note 1 below, to the appropriate categories in Table 1 below on the basis of their residual maturities and then multiply them by the weightings shown. It must sum its weighted positions (regardless of whether they are long or short) in order to calculate its capital requirement against specific risk.

Table 1

Central Government Items (see note 5)	Qualifying items (see note 6)			Other items
	< 6 months	> 6 ≤ 24 months	> 24 months
0.00%	0.25%	1.00%	1.60%	8.00%

General Risk

3.2.1 Maturity-based method of calculating bonds position risk requirements (matched weighted method)

- 3.2.1.1 The trading member must calculate the totals of the unmatched weighted long positions for the bands included in each of the zones of Table 2 below in order to derive the unmatched weighted long position for each zone. Similarly the sum of the unmatched weighted short positions for each band in a particular zone must be aggregated to calculate the unmatched weighted short position for that zone. That part of the unmatched weighted long position for a given zone that is matched by the unmatched weighted short position for the same zone must be the matched weighted position for that zone. That part of the unmatched weighted long or unmatched weighted short position for a zone that cannot be thus matched must be the unmatched weighted position for that zone.

Zone	Maturity band		Weighting (in %)	Assumed interest rate change (in %)
	Coupon of 3% or more	Coupon of less than 3%
(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)	(5)
One	0 ≤ 1 month	0 ≤ 1 month	0,00	-
	>1 ≤ 3 months	>1 ≤ 3 months	0,20	1,00
	>3 ≤ 6 months	>3 ≤ 6 months	0,40	1,00
	>6 ≤ 12 months	>6 ≤ 12 months	0,70	1,00
Two	>1 ≤ 2 years	>1,0 ≤ 1,9 years	1,25	0,90
	>2 ≤ 3 years	>1,0 ≤ 2,8 years	1,75	0,80
	>3 ≤ 4 years	>2,8 ≤ 3,6 years	2,25	0,75
Three	> 4 ≤ 5 years	>3,6 ≤ 4,3 years	2,75	0,75
	>5 ≤ 7 years	>4,3 ≤ 5,7 years	3,25	0,70
	>7 ≤ 10 years	>5,7 ≤ 7,3 years	3,75	0,65
	>10 ≤ 15 years	>7,3 ≤ 9,3 years	4,50	0,60
	>15 ≤ 20 years	>9,3 ≤ 10,6 years	5,25	0,60
	>15 ≤ 20 years	>10,6 ≤ 12,0 years	6,00	0,60
	> 20 years	>12,0 ≤ 20 years > 20 years	8,00 12,50	0,60

- 3.2.1.2 The amount of the unmatched weighted long or short position in zone one which is matched by the unmatched weighted short or long position in zone two must then be calculated. This is referred to in paragraph AA 3.2.1.6.5 as the matched weighted position between zones one and two. The same calculation must then be undertaken with regard to that part of the unmatched weighted position in zone two which is left over and the unmatched weighted position in zone three in order to calculate the matched weighted position between zones two and three.
- 3.2.1.3 A trading member may, if it wishes, reverse the order in paragraph AA 3.2.1.2 so as to calculate the matched weighted position between zones two and three before calculating that between zones one and two.
- 3.2.1.4 The remainder of the unmatched weighted position in zone one must then be matched with what remains of that for zone three - after the latter's matching with zone two, in order to derive the matched weighted position between zones one and three.
- 3.2.1.5 The residual positions, following the three separate matching calculations in paragraph AA 3.2.1.2, AA 3.2.1.3 and AA 3.2.1.4 must be aggregated.
- 3.2.1.6 A trading member's capital requirement must be calculated as the sum of:
- 3.2.1.6.1 10% of the sum of the matched weighted positions in all maturity bands;
 - 3.2.1.6.2 40% of the matched weighted position in zone one;
 - 3.2.1.6.3 30% of the matched weighted position in zone two;
 - 3.2.1.6.4 30% of the matched weighted position in zone three;
 - 3.2.1.6.5 40% of the matched weighted position between zones one and two and between zones two and three (see paragraph AA 3.2.1.2);
 - 3.2.1.6.6 150% of the matched weighted position between zones one and three;
 - 3.2.1.6.7 100% of the residual unmatched weighted positions.
- 3.2.2 Alternative method: Duration-based method of calculating bonds position risk requirements
- 3.2.2.1 In terms of the duration based system the trading member must ascertain the market yield to maturity of each fixed-rate bonds, using the value implied by a loan-stock's all-in market value where trading is by price rather than yield. In the case of floating-rate bonds, the trading member must take the market value of each instrument and then calculate its yield on the assumption that the principal is due when the interest rate can next be changed.
- 3.2.2.2 The trading member must then calculate the modified duration of each debt instrument on the basis of the following formula:
- modified duration = $\frac{\text{duration}(D)}{(1+r)}$, where:
- $$D = \left(\sum_{t=1}^m \frac{t C_t}{(1+r)^t} \right) / \left(\sum_{t=1}^m \frac{C_t}{(1+r)^t} \right)$$
- where:
- r = yield to maturity (see paragraph AA 3.2.2.1)
 - C_t = cash payment in time t,
 - m = total maturity (see paragraph AA 3.2.2.1)
- 3.2.2.3 A trading member must then allocate each instrument to the appropriate zone in Table 3 on the basis of the modified duration of each instrument.

Zone	Modified duration (in years)	Assumed interest (change in %)
(1)	(2)	(3)
One	$> 0 \leq 1,0$	1,0
Two	$> 1,0 \leq 3,6$	0,85
Three	$> 3,6$	0,7

3.2.2.4 A trading member must then calculate the duration-weighted position for each instrument by multiplying its market price by its modified duration and by the assumed interest-rate change for an instrument with that particular modified duration (see column 3 in Table 3).

3.2.2.5 A trading member must then work out its duration-weighted long and its duration-weighted short positions within each zone. The amount of the former which are matched by the latter within each zone must be the matched duration-weighted position for that zone.

3.2.2.6 A trading member's capital requirement must then be calculated as the sum of:

3.2.2.6.1 2% of the matched duration-weighted position for each zone;

3.2.2.6.2 40% of the matched duration-weighted positions between zones one and two and between zones two and three;

3.2.2.6.3 150% of the matched duration-weighted position between zones one and three;

3.2.2.6.4 100% of the residual unmatched duration-weighted positions.

3.2.3 Calculation of position risk requirements in relation to securities

A trading member must sum up its net long positions and its net short positions in accordance with note 1 below. The sum of the two figures is its overall gross position. The difference between them is its overall net position.

Specific risk

3.2.3.1 A trading member must multiply its overall gross position by the percentage reflected in the table hereunder in order to calculate its capital requirement against specific risk for equities as indicated.

	Liquid	Normal	Illiquid
Mining	5%	10%	20%
Other	5%	10%	20%

General risk

3.2.3.2 A trading member's capital requirement against general risk is its overall net position multiplied by 20% for mining shares and 10% for other.

Share-index futures

3.2.3.3 Share-index futures, the delta-weighted equivalents of options in share-index futures and share indices collectively referred to hereafter as 'share-index futures', may be broken down into positions in each of their constituent equities. These positions may be treated as underlying positions in the equities in question; therefore, subject to the approval of the JSE, they may be netted against opposite positions in the underlying equities themselves.

3.2.3.4 The JSE will ensure that any trading member which has netted off its positions in one or more of the equities constituting a share-index future against one or more positions in the share-index future itself has adequate capital to cover the risk of loss caused by the future's values not moving fully in line with that of its constituent equities; and will also do this when a trading member holds opposite positions in share-index futures which are not identical in respect of either their maturity or their composition or both.

3.2.3.5 Notwithstanding paragraphs AA 3.2.3.3 and AA 3.2.3.4, share-index futures which are exchange traded and - in the opinion of the JSE - represent broadly diversified indices will attract the following capital requirement against general risk:

All Share index	13%
Financial and Industrial Index	10%
Industrial index	10%
Financial Index	10%
Resources Index	20%
Gold index	20%

but no capital requirement against specific risk. Such share-index futures must be included in the calculation of the overall net position in paragraph AA 3.2.3, but disregarded in the calculation of the overall gross position in the same paragraph.

3.2.3.6 If a share-index future is not broken down into its underlying positions, it must be treated as if it were an individual equity. However, the specific risk on this individual equity can be ignored if the share-index future in question is exchange traded and, in the opinion of the JSE, represents a broadly diversified index.

3.2.4 Underwriting

In the case of the underwriting of bonds or securities, the JSE may allow a trading member to use the following procedure in calculating its capital requirements. First, it must calculate the net positions by deducting the underwriting positions which are subscribed or sub-underwritten by third parties on the basis of formal agreements; secondly, it must reduce the net positions by the following reduction factors:

- working day 0	:	100%
- working day 1	:	90%
- working days 2 to 3	:	75%
- working days 4	:	50%
- working day 5	:	25%
- after working day 5	:	0%

Working day zero is the working day on which the trading member becomes unconditionally committed to accepting a known quantity of securities at an agreed price.

Thirdly, it must calculate its capital requirements using the reduced underwriting positions. The JSE will ensure that a trading member holds sufficient capital against the risk of loss which exists between the time of the initial commitment and working day 1.

3.2.5 Commodities

Positions in physical commodities associated with a trading member's investment business: 30% of realisable value (see note 4).

3.2.6 JSE authorised investments

- 3.2.6.1 Any interest in a regulated collective investment scheme, 25% of realisable value.
- 3.2.6.2 Any interest in an unregistered futures or options fund, 50% of realisable value.
- 3.2.6.3 Any other investments: 100% of amount of assets.

Note 1 Netting notices

The excess of a trading member's long or short positions over its short or long positions in the same security, bonds, futures or options, is its net position in each of those different instruments. In calculating the net position, positions in derivative instruments are to be treated as positions in the underlying (or notional) securities. A trading member's holdings of its own bonds must be disregarded in calculating specific risk under paragraph AA 3.2.

No netting will be allowed between a convertible and an offsetting position in the instrument underlying it, unless the likelihood of a particular convertible instrument being converted is taken into account or have a capital requirement to cover any loss which a conversion might entail.

Note 2 Particular instruments

- (a) Interest-rate futures, forward-rate agreements (FRAs) and forward commitments to buy or sell bonds must be treated as combinations of long and short positions.
- (b) Options on interest rates, securities, indices, futures, swaps and foreign currencies must be treated as if they were positions equal in value to the amount of the underlying instrument to which the option refers, multiplied by its delta. The latter positions may be netted off against any offsetting positions in the identical underlying securities or derivatives. The delta used must be that of the exchange concerned, that calculated by the JSE or, where that is not available or for OTC options, that calculated by the trading member itself, subject to the JSE being satisfied that the model used by the trading member is reasonable.
- (c) Swaps must be treated for interest-rate risk purposes on the same basis as on-balance-sheet instruments. Thus an interest-rate swap under which an institution receives floating-rate interest and pays fixed-rate interest must be treated as equivalent to a long position in a floating-rate instrument of maturity equivalent to the period until the next interest rate fixing and a short position in a fixed rate instrument with the same maturity as the swap itself.
- (d) The transferor of securities or guaranteed rights relating to title to securities in a repurchase agreement and the lender of securities in a securities lending agreement must include these securities in the calculation of its capital requirement under this section.

Note 3 Specific and general risks

The position risk on traded bonds or securities (or derivatives thereon) must be divided into two components in order to calculate the capital requirement. The first must be its specific-risk component - that is the risk of a price change in the instrument concerned due to factors related to its issuer or, in the case of a derivative, the issuer of the underlying instrument. The second component must cover its general risk - that is the risk of a price change in the instrument due (in the case of a traded bonds instrument or bonds derivative) to a change in the level of interest rates or (in the case of a security or security derivative) to a broad market movement unrelated to any specific attributes of individual securities.

Note 4 Definition of stock position

- (a) A stock position in physical commodities includes the following:
 - (i) Commodities where the full contract price has been paid.
 - (ii) Work in progress and finished goods which result from the processing of commodities.
 - (iii) Raw materials which will be combined with commodities to produce a finished processed commodity.
- (b) A stock position must be regarded as being associated with a trading member's investment business if the contract was made for investment rather than commercial purposes. Indications of this are –
 - (i) it is traded on a recognised or designated exchange; or
 - (ii) the performance of it is ensured by such an exchange or by a clearing house; or
 - (iii) there are arrangements for secured payment or the provision of margin.
- (c) Some indications that a contract is made for commercial purposes are -

- (i) the terms specify delivery within 7 days
- (ii) either or each of the parties is a producer of the commodity or uses it in its business
- (iii) the purchaser takes or intends to take delivery of the commodity.

Note 5 All bonds issued by the Central Government or guaranteed by the Central Government.

Note 6 All bonds listed on the JSE, the Bond Exchange of South Africa or any other exchange listing bonds and granted FSB recognition.

3.3 Calculation of position risk requirement in terms of in-house model

A trading member will be entitled to calculate its position risk requirement according to its in-house “value-at-risk” model and submit the result of its calculation to the JSE as part of its capital adequacy return: Provided that the model meets the following standards to the satisfaction of the Director: Market Regulation:

Value-at-Risk (“VaR”) Models

The qualitative standards will include, as a minimum:

- The model must be conceptually sound, implemented with integrity, and form part of the day-to-day risk management process of the trading member.
 - Senior management must be actively involved in the risk control process. Daily reports must be reviewed by a level of management with sufficient seniority and authority to enforce the closure of positions to reduce the risk exposure of the trading member.
 - The trading member must have sufficient numbers of staff in front, middle and back office functions equipped with the necessary skills and expertise to discharge their responsibilities effectively.
 - The model must be shown to be reliable in its assessment of losses when compared with the actual daily performance of the trading member’s portfolio.
 - The trading member must conduct a routine and rigorous programme of stress testing.
- The quantitative standards are not yet finalised and may be subject to change. Nevertheless, it is likely that they will take the following form:
- The value-at-risk must be computed daily, using a 99th percentile, one tailed confidence interval, a minimum holding period of ten trading days, and a historical observation period of at least one year.

Calculation of Position Risk Requirement (“PRR”)

The numbers produced by the value-at-risk model will be permitted to form the basis of the computation of PRR. Although some points of detail may be subject to change, the mechanics of the calculation are likely to be as follows:

- A trading member must calculate a “benchmark PRR” on its portfolio on a date specified by the JSE using the standard rules. The date must be chosen at random, and the trading member will be informed the following day.
- On any subsequent day the benchmark PRR must be scaled by a factor which reflects the change in profile or riskiness of the firm’s portfolio. This factor must be the ratio of the PRR produced by the value-at-risk model on the current portfolio to the PRR produced by the value-at-risk model on the benchmark portfolio.

The PRR used to determine capital adequacy must be the highest of

- the benchmark PRR
- the benchmark PRR * (the VaR of the current portfolio) / (the VaR of the benchmark portfolio)
- a multiple of the VaR of the current portfolio

The JSE may, at its discretion, require a trading member to repeat the benchmarking exercise on any subsequent date.

AA 4 COUNTERPARTY RISK REQUIREMENT

The JSE hereby determines that a trading member's counterparty risk requirement, as contemplated in rule 3.40.1.4 must be calculated as follows and that those trading members not exempted in terms of rule 3.90.5 must include a declaration of their counterparty risk in the return referred to in rule 3.90.4 in accordance with this directive.

4.1 Calculation of Counterparty Risk Requirement

The counterparty risk requirement is the aggregate of the capital required against the individual items as detailed in the table below.

Item	Capital Required
1. Unsettled securities and physical commodities transactions (see note 1)
1.1 Cash against documents transactions <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 0-7 days after settlement date • 8-15 days after settlement date • over 15 days after settlement date 	Nil 50% of price DIFF (see note 2) 100% of price DIFF

3. Exchange traded margined transactions (includes initial margin and variation margin) (see note 1) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 0-3 days since shortfall • 4 days and over since shortfall 	Nil 100% of shortfall
4. Repurchase or reverse repurchase agreements (including lending and borrowing and sale and buy back agreements) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • qualifying debt instruments

Note 1	Potential loss positions only (i.e. potential profits may not be offset against potential losses)
Note 2	DIFF = Differential between purchase price and current market price
	MV = market value of security or contract
	NV = notional or actual value of the security underlying the contract
Note 3	Free delivery means -
	(a) the delivery of securities or physical commodities which takes place before the seller or agency broker receives payment; or
	(b) payment made in settlement of a credit balance arising from a sale on behalf of a counterparty or a purchase from a counterparty in respect of which the securities are undelivered.

4.2 A trading member must hold sufficient capital to meet the counterparty risk requirement:

Provided that –

- 4.2.1 if a trading member has made a specific provision against a counterparty balance it may reduce the counterparty exposure on which the requirement is calculated up to the extent of such provision; and
- 4.2.2 the fact that any amount may be due to or from a connected company to a trading member does not affect the requirement to calculate the counterparty risk requirement.

4.3 For the purposes of AA 4.2.2 above, “connected company” means in relation to a trading member –

- 4.3.1 a corporate body which is controlled by the trading member;
- 4.3.2 a corporate body which is has an interest in a trading member; or
- 4.3.3 the trading member and the corporate body are fellow group companies

AA 5 LARGE EXPOSURE REQUIREMENT

The JSE hereby determines that a trading member’s large exposure requirement, as contemplated in rule 3.40.1.5, must be calculated as follows and that those trading members not exempted in terms of rule 3.90.5 must include a declaration of their large exposure risk in the return referred to in rule 3.90.4 in accordance with this resolution.

5.1 Large exposures

- 5.1.1 Exposure means the amount at risk before applying the appropriate position risk requirement (“PRR”) or counterparty risk requirement (“CRR”) percentage in relation to –
 - 5.1.1.1 the excess, where positive, of the market value of a trading member’s long positions over its short positions in all the securities issued by the third party;
 - 5.1.1.2 in the case of underwriting commitments, the market value of the trading member’s net exposure;
 - 5.1.1.3 counterparty exposures arising from unsettled securities transactions, repurchase, reverse repurchase, securities lending and borrowing transactions and JSE authorised investments, calculated in accordance with the PRR resolution; and
 - 5.1.1.4 all other assets and off balance sheet items constituting claims on third parties (e.g. commissions and fees receivable).

5.2 Exempt exposures

A trading member may exclude the following from its large exposure requirement calculations:

- 5.2.1 exposures to or guarantees by the government of the Republic of South Africa or the South African Reserve Bank;
- 5.2.2 exposures secured by securities issued by the government of the Republic of South Africa or the South African Reserve Bank;
- 5.2.3 exposures secured by cash deposited with the trading member, its connected credit institutions or JSE Trustees;

- 5.2.4 exposures with a maturity of less than one year to regulated South African financial and banking institutions, licensed clearing houses and exchanges, not constituting their capital requirements.

5.3 Connected parties

Groups of connected third parties means two or more entities or natural persons which are interconnected to the extent that the financial performance or soundness of one would be materially affected by the financial performance or soundness of the other or others. Such interconnectivity would be evidenced, inter alia, where one company derives more than 20% of its earnings from another or where counterparties are linked by cross-guarantees.

5.4 Calculations

Where the sum of the exposures to a third party or a group of connected third parties exceeds 25% of a trading member's adjusted liquid capital, a trading member must calculate a large exposure requirement for each such exposure in accordance with AA 5.4.1 to AA 5.4.4 below -

- 5.4.1 calculate the excess of the exposure over 25% of adjusted liquid capital;
- 5.4.2 rank the exposures on the basis of specific risk requirement in the case of positions and the requirement in the case of counterparty exposures, in descending order;
- 5.4.3 add the constituent exposures, starting with the exposure attracting the highest risk requirement, until the sum equals the excess in AA 5.4.1 above;
- 5.4.4 the large exposure requirement sum must be 200% of the specific risk requirements and counterparty risk requirements applicable to those exposures forming the excess. However, the large exposure requirement must be limited to such amount as, together with the PRR's or CRR's on the exposures making up such excess, equals 100% of any exposure forming the excess.
- 5.4.5 a trading member which determines its PRR using the simplified method must treat the consolidated PRR applicable to that method as the specific risk requirement for purposes of calculating its large exposure requirement.

AA 6 FOREIGN EXCHANGE RISK REQUIREMENT

The JSE hereby determines that a trading member's foreign exchange risk requirement, as contemplated in rule 3.40.1.6, must be calculated as follows and that those trading members not exempted in terms of rule 3.90.5 must include a declaration of their foreign exchange risk in the return referred to in rule 3.90.4 in accordance with this resolution.

6.1 Types of exposures to be included in foreign exchange requirement

A trading member must calculate a foreign exchange requirement for the following positions, identifying each currency separately, including the currency of its books of account –

- 6.1.1 the net spot position of all asset items less all liability items including accrued interest in the currency in question;
- 6.1.2 any currency future at the nominal value of the contract;
- 6.1.3 any forward contract for the purchase or sale, at the contract value, including any future exchange of principal associated with cross-currency swaps;
- 6.1.4 any currency option;
- 6.1.5 irrevocable guarantees, and similar instruments, which are certain to be called;
- 6.1.6 with the prior written consent of the JSE any future income or expense which is
- 6.1.6.1 known but not yet accrued; and
- 6.1.6.2 fully hedged by forward foreign exchange transactions;
- 6.1.7 with the prior written consent of the JSE any non-trading, structural position deliberately entered into in order to hedge adverse exchange rate movements on the value of the firm's financial resources;
- 6.1.8 with the prior written consent of the JSE, any position already fully deducted from the firm's financial resources;
- 6.1.9 any other balance sheet asset or liability; and

6.1.10 any other off balance sheet commitment to purchase or sell an asset denominated in that currency.

6.2 Treatment of foreign exchange options

6.2.1 Risk assessment models

A trading member may use, with the JSE's prior written approval, a risk assessment model in respect of its foreign exchange options to estimate its notional forward foreign exchange positions, provided the model forms part of the day to day management supervision of the trading member's options business.

6.2.2 Options at least 8% in the money

A trading member must include currency positions arising from foreign exchange options in the foreign exchange requirement method if the option is at least 8% in the money, in which case the resulting currency positions must be based on the nominal amount of the contract valued at current spot rates.

6.2.3 Options less than 8% in the money

6.2.3.1 A trading member must calculate, in respect of a foreign exchange option which is less than 8% in the money, its currency positions based on the nominal amount of the contract valued at current spot rates.

6.2.3.2 Where a currency position derived in AA 6.2.3.1 would increase the net open position in that currency, the position must be included in the foreign exchange requirement method.

6.2.3.3 Where a currency position derived in AA 6.2.3.1 will decrease the net open position in that currency, the position must not be included in the foreign exchange requirement method.

6.2.4 Calculation of "in the money"

For the purposes of this rule, a trading member must determine the extent to which the option contract is "in the money" by reference to the difference between the exercise price and the current forward rate for the final date on which the option may be exercised as a percentage of the forward rate.

6.3 Method of Calculation of Foreign Exchange Requirement

6.3.1 Calculation of net open position

A trading member must calculate a net open position for all currencies including the currency of the trading member's books of account, and must translate them to the Rand using the prevailing spot rates.

6.3.2 A trading member must use Method 1 unless it has the written approval of the JSE to use Method 2.

6.3.2.1 Method 1

A trading member must calculate the foreign exchange requirement as 8% of the higher of 6.3.2.1.1 the aggregate of the net open long positions in each currency; or 6.3.2.1.2 the aggregate of the net open short positions in each currency.

6.3.2.2 Method 2

6.3.2.2.1 With the prior written approval of the JSE, a trading member may use simulation techniques to calculate the foreign exchange requirement in respect of all, or some, of the currencies to which it is exposed.

6.3.2.2.2 The foreign exchange requirement for the currencies concerned must be calculated in order that –

6.3.2.2.2.1 it exceeds the losses which would have occurred in at least 95% of the rolling ten working-day periods over the preceding five years; and

6.3.2.2.2.2 it exceeds 2% of the higher of –

ANNEXURE A

Risk Disclosure Statement

This risk disclosure statement is made pursuant to the rules. The risk of loss arising from trading in futures and options can be substantial. You should carefully consider whether such investments are suitable for you in the light of your circumstances and financial resources. You should be aware of the following points -

1. If the market moves against your position, you may, in a relatively short time, sustain more than a total loss of the funds placed by way of margin or deposit with your trading member. You may be required to deposit a substantial additional sum, at short notice, to maintain your margin balances. If you do not maintain your margin balances your position may be closed out at a loss and you will be liable for any resulting deficit.
2. Under certain market conditions it may be difficult or impossible to close out a position. This may occur, for example, where trading is suspended or restricted at times of rapid price movement.
3. Where permitted, placing a stop-loss order will not necessarily limit your losses to the intended amounts, for market conditions may make it impossible to execute such orders at the stipulated price.
4. A spread or straddle position may be as risky as a simple long or short position and can be more complex.
5. Markets in futures and options can be highly volatile and investments in them carry a substantial risk of loss. The high degree of "gearing" or "leverage" which is often obtainable in trading these contracts stems from the payment of what is a comparatively modest deposit or margin when compared with the overall contract value. As a result a relatively small market movement can, in addition to achieving substantial gains where the market moves in your favour, result in substantial losses which may exceed your original investment where there is an equally small movement against you.
6. When your trading member deals on your behalf, you should allow this only in contracts listed on the JSE. Should you deal in contracts not listed on the JSE, then you do so at your own increased risk.
7. Prior to the commencement of trading, you should require from your trading member written confirmation of all current commissions, fees and other transaction charges for which you will be liable.
8. Trading members may also be dealers trading for their own account in the same markets as you, in which case their involvement could be contrary to your interests.
9. You should carefully consider whether your financial position permits you to participate in a syndicate. Areas of particular concern are —
 - 9.1 charges for management, advisory and brokerage fees;

9.2 the performance record of the syndicate and for how long it has been operating; and
9.3 the credibility of management.

10. Your trading member should explain to you the meaning of various terms set out herein so that you are fully aware of their significance.

11. If you have any doubts or concerns regarding the risks in trading futures and options you may contact the JSE for more detailed information before signing this statement.

This brief statement cannot disclose all risks of investment in futures and options. They are not suitable for many members of the public and you should carefully study such investments before you commit funds to them. They may also have tax consequences and on this you should consult your lawyer, accountant or other tax advisor.

ANNEXURE B
Fees schedule
The fees referred to in clause 12 of this agreement, will be as follows:

ANNEXURE C
Investment objectives of client
The investment objectives of the client as envisaged in clause 14.4.1 of this agreement shall be as follows:

NOTE:
Any later amendments to Annexures B or C must be attached to this agreement, properly signed and dated.

- 5 Bonds holdings comprising uncertificated securities must be held by the trading member in safe custody reflected as an electronic entry in a central depository, electronic scrip registry or nominee register as approved by the JSE, and subject to any applicable legislation, the JSE rules and the terms of the agreement.
- 6 The trading member must be entitled to maintain an electronic record in respect of clients' bonds holdings in the central depository or registry through a CSDP of its choice and the holdings must be held via the CSDP's nominee, the trading member's own nominee or another account designated as a client account separate from the trading member's proprietary holdings, subject to any specific instructions from the client to the contrary.
- 7 The trading member must be authorised to move the client's bonds holdings from one electronic record to another or withdraw such holdings from safe custody only for the purpose of –
 - 7.1 transferring the holdings to the client or their order or upon termination of the agreement ,as notified by the client in writing;
 - 7.2 dealing with the holdings as may be required in fulfilling the terms of the agreement;
 - 7.3 lodging the holdings on behalf of the client with any person or entity in terms of an order of court or a special resolution of the issuer of the holdings;
 - 7.4 any other lawful purpose in terms of the agreement.
- 8 All cash deposits received by the trading member arising from the management of the client's bonds holdings must be paid by the trading member into a separate trust account with a bank unless it is paid over to the client.

DE Investment Management Agreement

The JSE has resolved that the Investment Management Agreement to be entered into between a trading member and an investment manager shall contain terms and conditions which have substantially the same effect in law as the terms and conditions in the proforma agreement below, to the extent that the terms and conditions below are relevant to transactions in IRC securities entered into by the trading member with or on behalf of the investment manager.

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT AGREEMENT between

(the "trading member")

and

.....
(the "investment manager")

acting as agent for and on behalf of each of the parties listed from time to time in the schedule annexed hereto marked C (each such party hereinafter being referred to as "the client")

Whereas -

A The trading member is a trading member of JSE Limited ("JSE") and authorised to buy and sell IRC securities on behalf of other persons or on its own account;

B The trading member and the investment manager wish to enter into an agreement with each other through the agency of the investment manager setting out the terms on which the trading member will trade with or on behalf of the client.

C Pursuant to and in consideration of the trading member entering into this agreement with the client, the investment manager is to act as principal undertaking certain obligations to the trading member.

1 Interpretation

1.1 In this agreement, unless otherwise clearly indicated by, or inconsistent with the context –

1.1.1 a reference to any one gender includes a reference to all other genders;

1.1.2 the singular includes the plural and vice versa; and

1.1.3 all the terms used bear the same meaning as are assigned to such terms in the Interest Rate and Currency Rules of the JSE ("the rules").

1.2 In the event of conflict between the rules and the provisions of this agreement, the rules shall prevail.

1.3 The relevant provisions of the rules, resolutions of the JSE Executive Committee shall apply mutatis mutandis to this agreement as if incorporated in this agreement, the client hereby acknowledging and confirming that he has read and understood and shall be bound by the rules and such resolutions.

DF amended with effect from 9 May 2011

2 Capacity of trading member

- 2.1 The client appoints the trading member to trade on the client's behalf as agent on the terms and conditions set out in the rules and this agreement which appointment the trading member accepts: Provided that the trading member shall be entitled to trade with the client as principal if prior notice is given to the client.
- 2.2 When acting as agent, the trading member shall on behalf of the client enter into an equal and opposite trade with a counterparty as required by the rules.

3 Financial arrangements

The client hereby –

- 3.1 authorises the trading member to operate a separate trust account with a bank into which all margin and other payments from or for the account of clients shall be deposited and to make withdrawals from it as provided for by the rules;
- 3.2 acknowledges that, as between the trading member and himself, all profits arising from trades to which he is a party and entered into in accordance with the provisions of this agreement, shall be for his own account and undertakes to place the trading member on demand in sufficient funds to enable the trading member to defray all losses and to pay all expenses and other costs arising from such trades; and
- 3.3 authorises the trading member to utilise any amount standing to the credit of the client in such account to settle any liabilities or losses arising from any trade entered into with or for the client pursuant to this agreement and instructs the trading member to repay to him, after any position relating to any such trade has been closed out or the trade has expired and no liabilities remain in respect thereof, any amount standing to his credit in that account.

4 Fees, levies and charges

Fees, levies and charges for services rendered by the trading member to the client shall be levied in accordance with the schedule set out in annexure A hereto.

5 Instructions and notices

- 5.2 Telephonic instructions shall be confirmed and accepted by the representative of the trading member to whom they are given. The approximate time of entering into any transaction in an IRC security shall appear on the confirmation note which shall be supplied to the client.

6 Risk acknowledgment

The investment manager warrants that the client has been advised that by reason of the leverage afforded by the margining system and the volatile nature of transactions in IRC securities, trading involves a high degree of risk and should only be engaged in by persons who possess the required skill and who fully understand the underlying principles of IRC securities and transactions therein, the inherent risks of trading and the nature and extent of their rights and obligations.

7 Margin

- 7.1 The client shall pay to the trading member in terms of the rules, by depositing in the account referred to clause 3, initial, variation, settlement and top-up margin or any other amount required by the trading member to maintain margin in respect of a position.

9 Recommendation, advice and information

The trading member shall not incur any liability for any loss sustained by the client as a result of any recommendation made, advice given or information supplied to the client by the trading member relating to trading on the JSE, provided the recommendation is made, the advice given and the information is supplied in good faith and without gross negligence.

11 Breach by trading member

- 11.2 The client shall advise the JSE of any action taken by it in terms of this clause.

12 Telephone calls

The client and the trading member each acknowledge and confirm that it is conversant with the relevant provisions of the rules insofar as the tape recording of telephone calls is concerned and the client hereby irrevocably consents to such tape recording being made by the broker, if the trading member considers it necessary to tape such calls.

13 Voluntary termination

A party shall be entitled to terminate this agreement by the giving written notice to the other party in the manner provided in this agreement, provided that such termination shall not –

- 13.2 entitle the client to claim or withdraw from the account referred to in clause 3 any monies held to secure the obligations of the client, until such obligations have been settled.

ANNEXURE A
Schedule of fees
ANNEXURE B
Risk Disclosure Statement
This risk disclosure statement is made pursuant to the rules. The risk of loss arising from trading in futures and options can be substantial. You should carefully consider whether such investments are suitable for you in the light of your circumstances and financial resources. You should be aware of the following points -
1.	If the market moves against your position, you may, in a relatively short time, sustain more than a total loss of the funds placed by way of margin or deposit with your trading member. You may be required to deposit a substantial additional sum, at short notice, to maintain your margin balances. If you do not maintain your margin balances your position may be closed out at a loss and you will be liable for any resulting deficit.
2.	Under certain market conditions it may be difficult or impossible to close out a position. This may occur, for example, where trading is suspended or restricted at times of rapid price movement.
3.	Where permitted, placing a stop-loss order will not necessarily limit your losses to the intended amounts, for market conditions may make it impossible to execute such orders at the stipulated price.
4.	A spread or straddle position may be as risky as a simple long or short position and can be more complex.
5.	Markets in futures and options can be highly volatile and investment in them carry a substantial risk of loss. The high degree of "gearing" or "leverage" which is often obtainable in trading these contracts stems from the payment of what is a comparatively modest deposit or margin when compared with the overall contract value. As a result a relatively small market movement can, in addition to achieving substantial gains where the market moves in your favour, result in substantial losses which may exceed your original investment where there is an equally small movement against you.

6. When your trading member deals on your behalf, you should allow this only in contracts listed on the JSE. Should you deal in contracts not listed on the JSE, then you do so at your own increased risk.
7. Prior to the commencement of trading, you should require from your trading member written confirmation of all current commission, fees and other transaction charges for which you will be liable.
8. Trading members may also be dealers trading for their own account in the same markets as you, in which case their involvement could be contrary to your interests.
9. Your trading member's insolvency or that of any other trading members involved in your contracts may lead to your positions being closed out without your consent.
10. You should carefully consider whether your financial position permits you to participate in a syndicate. Areas of particular concern are -
 - 10.1 charges for management, advisory and brokerage fees;
 - 10.2 the performance record of the syndicate and for how long it has been operating; and
 - 10.3 the credibility of management.
11. Your trading member should explain to you the meaning of various terms set out herein so that you are fully aware of their significance.
12. If you have any doubts or concerns regarding the risks in trading futures and options you may contact the JSE for more detailed information before signing this statement.

This brief statement cannot disclose all risks of investment in futures and options. They are not suitable for many members of the public and you should carefully study such investments before you commit funds to them. They may also have tax consequences and on this you should consult your lawyer, accountant or other tax advisor.

- EG Failed trade principles and procedures
- 1 A transaction, or any part thereof, which will not settle as a result of a failed trade must be dealt with on the basis set out in this directive.
- 2 A trading member or client that has complied with its obligations to settle a transaction in terms of the rules (the "non-failing party"), whose transaction will not settle as a result of a failed trade executed by another party, must, through its funds settlement account at its CSDP, receive a monetary payment placing the non-failing party in a monetary position equivalent to that in which the non-failing party would have been had the transaction settled in accordance with the rules.
- 3 In determining the monetary payment referred to in EG 2, the Settlement Authority will calculate the difference between –
- 3.1 the price at which the bonds in question were purchased or sold, as the case may be, (the "transaction price"); and
 - 3.2 a price determined by the Settlement Authority, in consultation with the Market Controller, with reference to the ruling price and the volume weighted average price (the "determined price"). The overriding objective in ascertaining the determined price will be to place the non-failing party in the same or equivalent position it would have been in had the transaction settled in accordance with the rules. For the purpose of this directive, "volume weighted average price" means, in respect of the period between 09h00 and 11h00 on the third business day after the trade date, the price determined by aggregating the volume multiplied by the price of each trade, divided by the total volume.
- 4 In the event that there is a differential of greater than a percentage, as determined by the JSE from time to time (which percentage is dependent on the liquidity of the relevant bonds), between the ruling price and the volume weighted average price, and the Settlement Authority, in consultation with the Market Controller and the Director: Market Regulation, forms the opinion that the ruling price of the said bonds may have been artificially manipulated to the benefit of the non-failing party, the Settlement Authority may elect to have the original trade corrected in accordance with the correction trade procedure as set out in rule 7.130.
- 5 Subject to EG 4 –
- 5.1 if the determined price has moved to the detriment of the non-failing party, the non-failing party must be paid the difference between the transaction price and the determined price; or
 - 5.2 if the determined price has moved to the benefit of the non-failing party, at the discretion of Settlement Authority the non-failing party will pay any differential between the price movement and the compensation to
